

Daily Threat Bulletin

26 March 2026

Vulnerabilities

Citrix urges admins to patch NetScaler flaws as soon as possible

BleepingComputer - 25 March 2026 12:52

Citrix has patched two NetScaler ADC and NetScaler Gateway vulnerabilities, one of which is very similar to the CitrixBleed and CitrixBleed2 flaws exploited in zero-day attacks in recent years.

Patch now: TP-Link Archer NX routers vulnerable to firmware takeover

Security Affairs - 25 March 2026 15:44

TP-Link issued security updates for its Archer NX router series to fix multiple vulnerabilities, including CVE-2025-15517 (CVSS score of 8.6), a critical authentication bypass flaw.

CISA Adds One Known Exploited Vulnerability to Catalog

CISA Advisories -

CISA has added one new vulnerability to its Known Exploited Vulnerabilities (KEV) Catalog, based on evidence of active exploitation.

CVE-2026-33017 Langflow Code Injection Vulnerability

Threat actors and malware

Malicious LiteLLM versions linked to TeamPCP supply chain attack

Security Affairs - 25 March 2026 09:50

Threat actor TeamPCP compromised LiteLLM versions 1.82.7 and 1.82.8, likely through a Trivy CI/CD breach. LiteLLM, with over 95 million monthly downloads, helps developers route LLM requests via a single API.

An Evolving GlassWorm Malware is Making the Rounds of Code Repositories

Security Boulevard - 25 March 2026 22:10

The bad actor can now deploy a RAT, is targeting MCP servers, and is finding new ways to move through Open VSX.

Scottish
Cyber Coordination
Centre

Device Code Phishing Hits 340+ Microsoft 365 Orgs Across Five Countries via OAuth Abuse

The Hacker News - 25 March 2026 18:04

Cybersecurity researchers are calling attention to an active device code phishing campaign that's targeting Microsoft 365 identities across more than 340 organizations in the U.S., Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and Germany.

UK incidents

What the UK Cyber Security & Resilience Bill Means for Security Practitioners

Security Boulevard - 26 March 2026 00:58

The UK's Cyber Security and Resilience Bill is working its way through Parliament, and if you haven't started paying serious attention yet, now is the time. Introduced to the House of Commons in November 2025, the Bill represents the most significant overhaul of UK cyber regulation since the NIS Regulations in 2018, and its implications for security practitioners are immediate and practical.

Operation Henhouse Nets Over 500 Arrests in UK Fraud Crackdown

Infosecurity Magazine - 25 March 2026 10:35

UK police trumpet success of Operation Henhouse as they seize and freeze over £27m in suspected fraud proceeds.